

Call for Papers: Adaptation: Film, Literature, Culture

33rd Annual Southwest/Texas Popular Culture Associations Conference
February 8-11, 2012
Albuquerque, New Mexico
Hyatt Regency Hotel and Conference Center
<http://www.swtxpca.org>

Proposal submission deadline: December 1, 2011

Join us this year, as a returning or first-time participant, in the Film Adaptation Area, a long-standing, well-represented area with outstanding past presentations.

The Adaptation Area this year encompasses traditional approaches to film adaptation, including

- Adaptation theory
- Novel to film adaptation
- Genre adaptation (homage, parody, etc)
- Stage to screen adaptation (excluding Shakespeare)
- Video games, songs, cartoons, graphic novels and comic books to film adaptation as well as a broader interpretation of the term adaptation, including films which translate culture into cinema through adaptations of

- The American West
- Political or religious ideology
- History
- Biography
- Race, gender, sexuality

Please send inquiries regarding this area to Lynnea Chapman King at the email address below.

Submissions should be entered directly into the conference database at <http://conference2012.swtxpca.org>. Submission deadline is December 1, 2011. Submissions should include a current curriculum vitae, a working bibliography for the presentation, and a 250-word abstract.
